The usual beginning. The 6th Kathisma.

On “Lord, I have cried ...,” 6 Stichera, 3 from the Pentecostarion, in Tone IV:

Spec. Mel.: “Thou hast given a sign ...”:

Thou didst suffer as a man, * though as God Thou art unapproachable. * Thou didst arise on the third day despoiling death, * and didst raise up all those who had reposed in corruption. * And having ascended unto Thy Father, O Christ, * Thou didst promise that Thou wouldst send the Comforter * to Thy sacred apostles,  O Almighty Jesus, Thou Savior of our souls.

Why stand ye gazing into the heavens? * said the angels in human form, unto the Word’s initiates: * He Whom ye beheld ascending on a cloud of light, * shall in a like manner come again * to judge the world, as He Himself told you.  Therefore, go ye forth and accomplish all that He hath said.

Having arisen from the tomb in a manner transcending thought, * O almighty Lord, * Thou didst lead to Bethany Thy beloved ones. * And having arrived at the Mount of Olives, O Word, * Thou didst bless them all. * And Thou wast taken up from thence * Whilst angels ministered unto Thee, O Almighty Jesus,  Thou Savior of our souls.

And 3 Stichera from the Menaion

Glory ..., Both now ..., in Tone IV:

When Thou, O Christ, * didst come unto the Mount of Olives * to accomplish the good will of the Father, * the heavenly angels were amazed * and the nethermost regions shuddered with fear. * The disciples stood by with joy and trembling * as Thou spakest unto them, * and a cloud prepared as a throne awaited opposite them; * and heaven, throwing open the gates, shone with comeliness; * and the earth revealeth its hidden chambers, * that the descent and immediate ascent might be made known unto Adam; * but his steps were led upwards as it were by a hand, * and his mouth was heard blessing Thee greatly; * the cloud took Thee up and heaven received Thee within itself. * Thou hast wrought this great and strange deed, O Lord,  for the salvation of our souls.

“O joyous light ...,”

Prokeimenon, in Tone IV:

Prokeimenon: The Lord will hearken unto me * when I cry unto Him.

Verse: When I called upon Thee, O God of my righteousness, Thou didst hearken unto me.

Then, “Vouchsafe O Lord ...,”

The Litany: Let us complete our evening ...,

On the Aposticha, the following Stichera, in Tone II:

Verse: Clap your hands, all ye nations; * shout unto God with a voice of rejoicing.

O Merciful One, Thou didst ascend * unto Thy Father, * from Whom Thou wast not parted, * and didst exalt our nature thus which lay prostrate,  O our Lord.

Verse: God is gone up in jubilation, * the Lord with the voice of the trumpet.

A brilliant cloud of light * conveyed Thee to the heavens, * whilst with great fear and trembling * the angels came and ministered unto  Thy divine command.

Glory ..., Both now ..., in Tone IV:

Thou hast renewed in Thyself Adam’s nature, * which had gone down into the lower parts of the earth, * and Thou didst raise it up above every principality and authority today. * For since Thou didst love it, Thou didst seat it together with Thyself; * since Thou hast taken compassion on it, Thou didst unite it to Thyself; * since Thou didst unite it to Thyself, Thou didst suffer with it; * and enduring the Passion, though Thou art impassable, * Thou didst glorify it. * But the Bodiless ones said: Who is this comely man? * But not only is He man, but God and man; * that which is manifest is twofold. * Wherefore, beside themselves, * the angels, flying about clad in radiant vesture, * cried unto the disciples: Ye men of Galilee, * He that is gone from you, * Jesus, Man and God, * shall come again as the God-man to judge the living and the dead; * and He granteth unto the faithful  the forgiveness of sins and great mercy.

Then “Now lettest Thy servant ...,” Trisagion ..., “Our Father ...,” Then:

The Prokeimenon in Tone VII: Be Thou exalted above the heavens, * O God, and Thy glory above all the earth.

Verse: Ready is my heart, O God, ready is my heart; I will sing and chant in my glory.

THE ACTS OF THE HOLY APOSTLES: (21:26-32)

In those days: Paul took the men, and the next day purifying himself with them entered into the temple, to signify the accomplishment of the days of purification, until that an offering should be offered for every one of them. And when the seven days were almost ended, the Jews which were of Asia, when they saw him in the temple, stirred up all the people, and laid hands on him, Crying out, Men of Israel, help: This is the man, that teacheth all men every where against the people, and the law, and this place: and further brought Greeks also into the temple, and hath polluted this holy place. (For they had seen before with him in the city Trophimus an Ephesian, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the temple.) And all the city was moved, and the people ran together: and they took Paul, and drew him out of the temple: and forthwith the doors were shut. And as they went about to kill him, tidings came unto the chief captain of the band, that all Jerusalem was in an uproar. Who immediately took soldiers and centurions, and ran down unto them: and when they saw the chief captain and the soldiers, they left beating of Paul.

Alleluia, in Tone II:

Verse: God is gone up in jubilation, the Lord with the voice of the trumpet.

Verse: Clap your hands, all ye nations; shout unto God with a voice of rejoicing.

GOSPEL ACCORDING TO ST. JOHN (16:2 - 13)

The Lord said unto His disciples, the time shall come when whosoever killeth you will think that he doeth God service. And these things will they do unto you, because they have not known the Father, nor me. But these things have I told you, that when the time shall come, ye may remember that I told you of them. And these things I said not unto you at the beginning, because I was with you. But now I go my way to him that sent me; and none of you asketh me, Whither goest thou? But because I have said these things unto you, sorrow hath filled your heart. Nevertheless I tell you the truth; It is expedient for you that I go away: for if I go not away, the Comforter will not come unto you; but if I depart, I will send him unto you. And when he is come, he will reprove the world of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgment: Of sin, because they believe not on me; Of righteousness, because I go to my Father, and ye see me no more; Of judgment, because the prince of this world is judged. I have yet many things to say unto you, but ye cannot bear them now. Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth.

Instead of “It is truly meet ...,” we chant the Irmos of the 9th ODE of the First Canon of the feast, in Tone V:
